

IREDA organizes virtual session on "Facing Covid Resurgence" for all employees

New Delhi, May 9th 2021

In order to support the mental and emotional health of all employees during the pandemic time, Indian Renewable Energy Development Agency Ltd. (IREDA) organized a virtual session on "Facing Covid Resurgence" today. The interactive session was conducted by Shri Akshay Rout, Former Director General in Swachh Bharat Mission & Election Commission of India.

Interacting with IREDANs, Shri Rout said that the last one year has taught us the importance of health before anything else. It has been a year full of challenges and learnings. Further he underlined that IREDA staff and employees should remain closely bonded as a family and keep collective faith. Shri Rout emphasized that inspiring communication must be at the center of a more resilient, empathetic, and effective response to this global pandemic. IREDANs also shared their experiences and key learning during the first and the second rounds of COVID wave.

Addressing the employees, Shri Pradip Kumar Das, CMD, IREDA highlighted that well-being of our employees is the foremost priority. The two days vaccination drive and continuous efforts made by 'IREDA Covid Care Team' further reiterates our belief in 'Wellness and Welfare before Business'.

On the occasion of Mother's Day, Shri Das conveyed his gratitude to all mothers. As a unique initiative, CMD, IREDA also interacted with mothers of IREDANs and thanked them for their relentless contribution and sacrifice towards their children and society.
